Director’s Report
Sal Vaca, City of Richmond-Employment and Training Department

Sal acknowledged Cassandra Youngblood as she has served as a chairperson for this community for many years. Due to the new WIOA legislation, we are required for the chair to be a representative of the business sector. Ms. Youngblood continues to be our best option and will now be representing her private business, Quality Cleaning, LLC. She will also be working with the county to identify her reflection as a replacement.

Bob Lilley is no longer representing IBEW Local 302. Mr. Lilley will now be representing the private sector with Contra Costa Electric. Sal requested for Mr. Lilley to give a presentation of work performed by their organization in a future meeting. Due to this change Mr. Lilley has invited Dan Torres, representing the Sprinkler Fitter and Apprentices Local No. 483 in hopes for him to be his replacement. Sal welcomed Mr. Torres and invited him to apply.

Sal discussed the unemployment rate for the City of Richmond. Currently the rate is at 5.5% this is one of the lowest in 35 years. Typically Richmond unemployment rate is 150% of what the county is rated. We are less than 1% below the county and we have a lower unemployment rate than the Solano County. Solano is usually typically viewed as a veteran community. RichmondWORKS is currently working with employers that are hiring for multiple jobs on a weekly basis. Out of the 48 Workforce Investment Boards throughout the state, Richmond ranks in at 21st place.

Blue Apron has cited over one-thousand employees and has been growing fast. RichmondWORKS will be working with Blue Apron to better match qualified candidates and help with job retention. A problem with job retention is the competition with other similar local companies. The companies are increasing the starting hourly wage to remain competitive.

The demand of warehouse space in Richmond is incredible. Sal mentioned that the Planning Director, Richard Mitchell, shared that there are two more permits issued by the City to build another warehouse. One warehouse will be on Harbor Way and will be 200,000 sq. feet. The second warehouse will be on Parkway and about 600,000 sq. feet.
Quarterly Sales Tax Presentation
Fran Mancia, MUNIS Financial

Economic Composition for the City:
- Transportation 30% Richmond is on top with sales of new and used cars (leaders are: Toyota, Ford and Chrysler)
- General Retail 30% (Costco being the top sales tax generator and Wal-Mart, Target, Sears and JCPenny)
- Business to Business 19%
- Construction 10%
- Food Products 10%
- Miscellaneous 1%

The City of Richmond is reliant on General retail, gas sales and car sales. We have the narrowest economic tax structure in the country we only tax about 32% of the total potential tax market that other states are taxing.

Energy sales are down due to gas prices declining over the past years. Chevron is responsible for about 70% of all petroleum product sales.

5% of sales tax is coming from the top 25 sales generators
Top 25 Sales Tax by Category:
- General Retail 37%
- Transportation 32%
- Construction 12%
- Business to Business 19%

City of Richmond does not have big tax revenue from food products like restaurants and grocery stores.

Regional Differences in Taxable Sales:
- April 2015–June 2016
- Total -5.7% Down
- Apparel Stores 6.8% Up
- Department Stores -0.4% is down due to more people buying thru the internet
- Energy Services -32. % is down due to the low gas prices
Performance by Benchmark Year over Benchmark Year:
BMY 2016 Q2
Drug Stores, 24.8%, are up due to medical Marijuana dispensaries. The dispensaries are considered medical sales and taxes are collected. However, that might change in November 2016 if Proposition 64 passes, which will not allow to tax “medicinal” marijuana items.

Differences nearby in Annual Per-Capita Sales Tax: California $127 sales tax is divided by the population of that state; Richmond is $118. We are under of the average of the state. San Pablo $60, Moraga $54; Moraga is low because there are few businesses in that area. Orinda $49 is also low due to few businesses in that area.

Annual Change in Sales Tax Cash Receipts: Due to the recession in 2008-2009 the City of Richmond has seen a down turn in cash receipts but quickly increased again in 2010.

Growth in Population and Employment: The population has grown fairly steadily in the last 10 years this is due to the employment growth in Richmond. The number of people employed has grown at a fairly steady rate since the recession of 2008 and 2009.

2007Q2 Annual employment 47,200 and in 2016Q2 50,800.

Capita Sales Tax:.78 correlations of employment is good anything over 3.0 is considered modern or strong correlation.

Opportunities: People coming to the City of Richmond to purchase goods. Consumer total is 116%.

Overall Richmond is doing great with the 0.1% tax.

Presentation on Senate Bill 1069
Joe Serrano, TentMakers Inc.

Joe Serrano introduced Rachele Trigueros, Policy Manager for the Bay Area Council. Ms. Trigueros presented a presentation regarding Accessory Dwelling Units. With a short fall in housing in California the Accessory Dwelling Units are a great opportunity. ADUs are small self-contained second dwellings on the same property as a primary house, whether in a converted basement, bedroom, garage, or a tiny backyard cottage. Depending on whether the second unit is attached or detached to the main unit, the bill calls for eliminating or reducing parking requirements, utility hook-up fees and speeding up the permit approval process.

The city of Vancouver is a sample with 35% of the dwelling units already constructed in that city.
Accessory dwelling units offer multiple benefits:

- Low cost to build and affordable-by-design.
- Provide income to homeowners.
- Environmentally friendly.
- Flexibility for changing households.

A copy of the presentation will be e-mailed.
