Mayor and Members of the City Council:

This is the report for the week ending April 28, 2017.

1. Meeting Notes

The next City Council meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, May 2nd beginning with Closed Session at 5:15 PM, followed by the Regular Meeting of the Richmond Housing Authority at 6:25 PM, and with the Council’s regular meeting at 6:30 PM. The agenda may be found by clicking this link: Richmond City Council Agenda Packet.

2. Richmond Wellness Trail Vision

Two years ago, the City of Richmond and Rosie the Riveter/World War II Home Front National Historical Park (RORI) became one of 10 model cities to host an Urban Fellow to activate the Urban Agenda. (See https://youtu.be/Kr-htjSruzY for more information.) Former City of Richmond Associate Planner Kieron Slaughter was selected for the two-year assignment as the Richmond Urban Fellow with the National Park Service (NPS), and was the project manager for the Urban Agenda, city-specific initiative and capstone project.

As part of his project, Mr. Slaughter received technical assistance from the NPS Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance Program (RTCA) and a Californian Endowment grant from the Local Government Commission. At the end of a year of community engagement and design work that enlisted local government, Richmond residents, community based organizations, and the healthcare industry, Kieron helped envision the Richmond Wellness Trail (RWT). The concept of the RWT is for a safe link to areas in the Iron Triangle neighborhood to the San Francisco Bay and Richmond Marina. The RWT identifies deficiencies in existing health and transportation systems, and provides specific recommendations to improve multimodal connectivity to parks, open space and transit.

At its most recent meeting, the Richmond City Council heard an interesting presentation on the Richmond Wellness Trail Vision Plan (RWT) and unanimously approved this vision as a formal policy document. The RWT implements and supports numerous goals in several adopted City planning documents such as the General Plan 2030, Climate Action Plan, Pedestrian Plan, Bicycle Master Plan and the South Richmond Transportation Connectivity Plan.

Key partners on this effort included Groundwork Richmond, Rich City Rides Co-Op Bicycle Shop, Bike East Bay, Richmond Museum of History, East Bay Center for the Performing Arts, Urban Tilth, Friends of the Richmond Greenway, Pogo Park and the Institute at the Golden Gate.

To access the City Council presentation, and to receive more information on the Richmond Wellness Trail, click here: http://www.ci.richmond.ca.us/documentcenter/view/41869.

3. An Osprey Sister City, or “Birds of a Feather…”

As previously reported in this weekly report, and thanks to the Golden Gate Audubon Society, the San Francisco Bay area – and the world – can get an astonishing view into the life of an intrepid pair of ospreys that are nesting in Richmond, thanks to the launch of the region’s first live streaming osprey nest camera. The live video stream, viewable at http://SFBayOspreys.org, allows the world to enjoy close and personal views of an osprey pair – named Rosie and Richmond – as they raise young over the next several months. The video stream also captures the magnificent views of San Francisco Bay.

It turns out that our namesake in Richmond, Virginia also has an osprey cam, with a live feed of a pair of ospreys nesting on a Richmond-Petersburg Railroad bridge piling on the James River (https://www.richmondospreycamera.com/). The Richmond, Virginia ospreys even have baby chicks adorning their nest, although my (unbiased) opinion is that Rosie and Richmond enjoy a better view.

Check it out!
4. 8th Annual Northern California Summit on Children and Youth

The Richmond Community Foundation (RCF) is partnering once again with the West Contra Costa Unified School District in helping to introduce students to industry leaders and local employers at the 8th Annual Northern California Summit on Children and Youth: Building the Next Generation Workforce on Wednesday, May 10th.

This year’s summit focuses on ensuring that our young community members (up and coming high school graduates) are prepared to fill the employment opportunities that we know will be available in our region in the coming years. The event will also help employers and industry leaders understand how to strategically and effectively build our next generation workforce.

Fire Engineer Kirk Gross was promoted to the rank of Fire Captain, effective April 20th. Captain Gross has been a member of the Richmond Fire Department since 2012, and has a degree in kinesiology from Cal Poly, and California State fire certifications in various rescue disciplines, including trench, confined space, and vehicle extrication. Captain Gross will supervise a fire station crew at Station 67 on Cutting Boulevard, which houses one of our two rescue vehicles. He will lead his crew at emergencies incidents and be responsible for their training in all phases of firefighting, rescue, fire prevention, and resuscitation.

In addition to his fire department responsibilities, Captain Gross and his wife have previously volunteered at the Kings Club After School Youth Program, part of the Bay Area Rescue Mission in Richmond, where they mentored students. Captain Gross also took his experience and joined the Tallahassee Haiti Medical Group in Dumay, Haiti to assist the Haitian people after their devastating earthquake in 2011.
Captain Gross believes his new position as Captain will allow him to continue making a positive impact on Richmond and looks forward to serving the community for many years to come.

13. STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Math) at the Richmond Public Library

The Richmond Public Library offers STEAM activities every month on Fun Fridays and STEAM Saturdays.

The next two STEAM days will be Fun Fridays on May 5th and June 2nd, from 3:30 PM - 4:30 PM. Each session has three stations with opportunities to explore. In the past, STEAM has offered: Squishy Circuits (circuits through play dough to light LEDs), building towers with various materials, making parachutes to test wind resistance, and making a parfait to show the density of different liquids.

We invite young people, ages 6-13, to join in to explore electricity, chemistry, physics, math, and art and crafts and have a lot of fun while doing it! We hope to see you next Friday, May 5th.
The Richmond Public Library is partnering with the D3 Comic Spot to bring Free Comic Book Day to Richmond. Free Comic Book Day is a single day when participating comic book specialty shops across North America and around the world give away comic books absolutely free to anyone who comes into their shops. It will take place on Saturday, May 6th in the Madeline F. Whittlesey Community Room of the main library from 12:30 PM – 4:30 PM.
15. The (Library) Branches are Blooming!

Last Thursday, April 20th, the Bayview Branch Library staff hosted a “Make a Terrarium” Program for an early Earth Day.

After an initial hesitance to leave the computer, kids were drawn to the back patio. Soon they were enthusiastically making a terrarium or two. They were excited about the idea of making a garden they can take home with them. After one participant filled a few jars, she helped her youngest brother make his own terrarium – with a little too much sisterly help? As other kids came over after school, the numbers grew. A few adults who heard about it came back with grandkids and neighbor kids. In total, there were 12 participants, and 15 terrariums were made.
Thanks go to Library staff who donated mason jars, succulents, and spider plant cuttings over the past few months. Thanks also to Annie’s Annuals for donating the loose potting soil. Finally, thanks to volunteer Mary P, who provided the charcoal for a similar terrarium program this past February.

What a wonderful time to celebrate and learn about growth and gardens in our beautiful backyard at Bayview.

16. 2017 Richmond Writes! Poetry Contest Awards

Friday, April 14th was the 7th annual Richmond Writes! Poetry Contest Awards, and, as usual, the City Council Chambers was packed! The highlight of the evening was the winning students reading their poems, with this year’s theme being “What Matters?” Students wrote about the things they feel most strongly about, that get their energy going, or that they would like to see happen in the future.

Aside from the expected group of proud students, parents, poetry judges, and art commissioners…something was different this year. The 2017 poetry contest had twice the number of winners as in previous years: thirteen 1st Place winners, thirteen 2nd Place winners, thirteen 3rd place winners, and sixty-one Honorable Mentions for a total of one-hundred winners! The 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners received over $1,500 in gift cards, and a total of 231 students from fourteen WCCUSD elementary, middle, and high schools entered this year's contest.

Part of the reason for the increase of awards was the fact that, since the City of Richmond’s Copy Center is able to produce the poetry books so economically (and so professionally), the funds could go instead towards cash awards for the students. The awards were sponsored by the Raymond Family Foundation. Each award winner received a 2017 Richmond Writes! poetry book and a certificate from Katy Curl, Library & Cultural Services Director.
17. RYSE Presents the Third Annual Production of Richmond Renaissance

RYSE will be presenting its third annual production of Richmond Renaissance, at the El Cerrito Performing Arts Theater on May 6th and 7th.

Set in AnnaBelle’s, a black-owned juke joint in 1940’s North Richmond, Richmond Renaissance is an original play written and performed by Richmond youth. The production counters the often negative Richmond narrative of poverty and violence, and highlights the community’s rich cultural past as an epicenter for blues, jazz and zydeco.

Written by RYSE Performing Arts Assistant DeAndre Evans, the play’s cast features all Richmond youth. It is directed by Richmond native Safiya Fredericks, and former poet laureate Donté Clark.

Richmond Renaissance takes place Saturday, May 6th and Sunday, May 7th from 6:00 PM to 8:00 PM at El Cerrito Performing Arts Theater, 540 Ashbury. Advance tickets are $15 for adults (24 and older) and $10 for youth, and can be purchased at the RYSE Center, 205 41st Street in Richmond or online at: tinyurl.com/richmondrenaissance.
