Item H-2:
Overview of Housing Choice Voucher Program (Section 8)

- The housing choice voucher program is the federal government's program for assisting very low-income families, seniors, and the disabled to afford decent, safe, and sanitary housing in the private market.

- The participant can choose any housing that meets the requirements of the program and is not limited to units located in subsidized housing projects.

Housing choice vouchers are administered locally by public housing agencies (PHAs). The PHAs receive federal funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to administer the voucher program.

A housing subsidy is paid to the landlord directly by the PHA on behalf of the participating family and the family then pays the difference between the actual rent charged by the landlord and the amount subsidized by the program.

The eligibility for a housing voucher is determined by the Housing Authority based on the total annual gross income and family size. It is limited to US citizens and specified categories of non-citizens who have eligible immigration status.

In general, the family's income may not exceed 50% of the median income for the county or metropolitan area in which the family chooses to live. By law, a Public Housing Agency must provide 75 percent of its voucher to applicants whose incomes do not exceed 30 percent of the area median income.

Item H-2: Fair Market Rents (Contra Costa County)

- Fair Market Rents, often abbreviated as FMR, can be used to better understand the average housing costs of an area.
- Notably, Fair Market Rents are used to establish the payment standards for the Housing Choice Voucher Program, maximum rents in HOME financed rental projects and initial rents for Section 8 project based assistance.

The payment standards are established by the Housing Authority. The Housing Authority establishes the standards based on the rental rates in the jurisdiction.

It establishes the rate between 90 and 110% of the HUD published Fair Market rent. Richmond Housing Authority’s current Payment Standard is 95% of FMR.

The maximum housing assistance is generally the lesser of the payment standard minus 30% of the family's monthly adjusted income or the gross rent for the unit minus 30% of monthly adjusted income. The PHA calculates this.

For example:

Household Composition: Mother and one child
Household Income: $900 per month
30% Adjusted monthly income= $258 ($900*12-$480/12*.30)
Family must pay 30% of adjusted monthly income for rent so RHA's estimated monthly rental subsidy is $1,806 ($2,064 – 258).

Item H-2: Rent Adjustment (Section 8)

- Units assisted with project-based Section 8 will have their rents adjusted as provided for in the Section 8 Renewal Policy Guide and the HAP contract.
- Units assisted with tenant-based Section 8 assistance will have their rents adjusted in accordance with the procedures established by the Housing Authority based on the type of voucher.
