Gun Violence is a complex problem. No one agency or organization can do it or go at it alone. Effectively reducing gun violence requires a comprehensive, multi-pronged and pro-collaborative framework, and the reality of limited and diminishing resources requires working TOGETHER differently.

With the exception of 2008, our first year of ONS operation, gun violence in Richmond over the last 5 years has experienced a significant increase.

Available data reveals:

- Richmond’s gun violence problem is in fact geographically and socially concentrated in a few highly impoverished and socially isolated neighborhoods

- Most victims (and offenders) of gun violence in our city tend to be young African-American men who live in areas of North, Central and South Richmond

- Most victims (and offenders) of gun violence consist of a relatively small group of individuals who have had repeated contacts with law enforcement

- The population most likely to commit murder and/or become a murder victim is highly concentrated among a small population of active offenders

- RPD estimates that approximately 20 gangs exist in Richmond

- Estimates that approximately 500-1,000 gang members exist in Richmond

- ONS estimates that there are between 150-180 individuals that are at extreme risk of being confronted by gun violence at any given time in Richmond
Characteristics of those that the ONS focuses its resources

Those identified as active gun offenders

Those most likely to be victims of gun violence

Have committed prior gun violence and/or have gun convictions

Have possible Gang ties/membership

Live or “hang out” in most impacted communities

Men and women with multiple barriers to positive social engagement and economic development opportunities and often disconnected from services, and service opportunities

Men and women who have come to believe that MURDER is one of the only acceptable or suitable remedies for addressing possible, actual or perceived conflict

Primary client is 16-30 years old

ONS’ Role

--Develop prevention and intervention programs and strategies
--Provide Advocacy
--Resource Development
--Act as a Service Coordination hub for those most likely to be confronted by gun violence

--Community Capacity Builder – creating an environment where those most likely to be confronted by gun violence have access to improved social, educational and economic opportunities

Background

In July of 2007, consultants that made up the Office of Violence Prevention Development Team (OVPDT) provided to the Mayor and City Council recommendations proposing the creation of the ONS, a 2-year phased implementation plan for the office, and recommendations for baseline funding from the City’s general fund.

Central to the plan and its recommendations was the development of the office, identifying and hiring staff, developing and implementing a street outreach program, and identifying and creating viable resource development and resource leveraging opportunities. As an intermediary organization inside city government, a primary goal established for this new office was to advance the city’s capacity to be more effectively positioned to successfully reduce gun violence and address the gaps outlined in the OVPDT report.

The plan called for General Fund support of $1M in year 1, and $2M in year 2. General Fund support at this level would allow for adequate ONS staffing support to begin to adequately address its mission, and provide sufficient leveraging for attracting external resources. The year 2 increase of an additional $1M was included to create, implement and support a community driven competitive granting process to be managed by the ONS. The granting program was to have been designed to fund community and faith based organizations in our efforts to build community capacity to effectively serve those most likely to be confronted by gun violence.

Richmond Community Wellness Collaborative (RCWC) and the ONS Service Support Network

The RCWC is a collective effort that provides advocacy, service coordination, and capacity building opportunities on behalf of those most likely to be confronted by gun violence. With the City’s Employment and Training department, community based organizations that include Neighborhood House of North Richmond, Richmond Police Activities League, The Williams Group, Opportunity West, the North Richmond Young Adult Empowerment Center, and the Greater Richmond Interfaith Program/Community-Based Employment Collaborative (CBEC), the Office of Neighborhood Safety provides leadership and convenes the RCWC in ongoing efforts to promote the education, health, well-being and economic viability of our city’s most vulnerable children, youth and families. The following list includes additional funded and non-funded support organizations that are very important to this works success:

- The RYSE Center
- Contra Costa College
- Contra Costa County Health Department
- John Muir Community Health Alliance
- John Muir Trauma Center
- IMPACT Program
- Richmond Project at San Quentin
- KL Hampton Group

Street and School Based Outreach Strategy

Neighborhood Change Agents (NCA’s) are street outreach workers or street advocates who mobilize to address problems and conflicts as they erupt, and help those they serve negotiate employment opportunities, address anti-social behaviors, and tackle peer pressure. NCA’s are ambassadors for public safety in the community – a bridge between the City and disenfranchised populations.

The Office of Neighborhood Safety with the assistance of local, regional and state law enforcement personnel have identified 150 - 180 individuals that are believed to be at high risk for being involved and/or confronted by gun violence. Many of these individuals are currently walking the streets of Richmond. Some are currently incarcerated, while others will soon return home to Richmond.
The City of Richmond Street and School-based Outreach Strategy is the first program initiative of the City’s Office of Neighborhood Safety (ONS) implemented in April 2008. This is a relational, non-enforcement based strategy dedicated to assisting and connecting target individuals and their families to culturally competent human, social and economic service opportunities.

NCA/Street Outreach Workers:
- build relationships with those most likely to be involved and/or confronted by gun violence
- provide daily face to face contact with active gun offenders
- provide “life” counseling and/or “route” counseling
- promote positive alternatives to violence
- mediate conflict and broker truces
- reduce fire arm retaliations/provide violence interruption
- serve as a voice of reason/provide rumor control
- act as a bridge for ensuring that systems of care and social services are delivered to those most likely to be involved or confronted by gun violence

The City’s Neighborhood Change Agents are also in the community providing information about available training, education, employment opportunities, substance abuse treatment, counseling, housing, and parental assistance.

NCA Percentage of duty/time allocation breakdown between April 2008 and January 2010:

- 55% - focus group interactions – coaching, mentoring, building resources, building relationships
- 30% - outreach – violence interruption, mediation, deployment/hotspots, spreading message that violence must stop – retaliation reduction activity
- 5% - attending community events
- 10% - administrative duties – paperwork, record keeping, training, continuing education, meetings

- 251 active gun offenders reached
- 850 contacts made with active gun offenders
- 675 highly at-risk individuals reached
- 1,441 contacts made with highly at risk individuals
- 2,092 hours logged by street workers in “hotspot” areas
- 138 Parolees assisted
- 103 Probationers assisted
- 105 Fire arm mediations/violence interruptions
- 53 Life Skills sessions facilitated
- 315 Life Skills Participants
- 411 unduplicated service referrals
- 108 school-based student/peer mediations
- 44 participants enrolled in the Richmond Employment & Training Academy

ONS Peacekeeper Program

The Office of Neighborhood Safety has identified 10 community residents that serve as ONS Peacekeepers. This team of individuals assists the ONS in facilitated peace-keeping activities such as school-based intervention services, parole and probation support, street outreach support, parent support, and neighborhood and resident support. Each of the Peacekeepers is provided a monthly stipend to assist in ONS violence reduction activities.

Life Skills for Peace (LS4P)

The Office of Neighborhood Safety facilitates Life Skills opportunities for extremely difficult to serve youth and young adults between the ages of 14-25 most at-risk for being involved with and/or directly impacted by gun violence. LS4P also works with students facing suspensions for violence, youth on probation for violence, and youth detained but not arrested by local police. LS4P provides a peer facilitated (in that the facilitators have similar life experiences, rather than being of the same age) transformative group mentoring dynamic designed to create an environment that teaches and provides opportunities for pro-social behavior through positive peer role modeling, healthy problem solving, conflict resolution, anger management, character development, and life skills training. The intent of these sessions is fostering resilience to the risk factors associated with violence.

This training focuses on:

- The Development of Leadership Skills
- Anti-Violence Education
- Positive Social Interactions
- Coping Skills
- Positive Decision Making

Beyond Violence Initiative

The Beyond Violence Initiative is a hospital-based peer intervention program that places trained Intervention Specialists (ONS NCA’s) who have overcome violence in their own lives to work with youth and young adults between the ages of 14-25 who are recovering from fire arm related injuries at the John Muir Trauma Center. The Beyond Violence Initiative provides an opportunity for the ONS to more immediately address the possibility of retaliation activity when the victim is most vulnerable. These trained Intervention Specialists offer long-term case coordination, linkages to community services, home visits, and follow-up assistance. The purpose is to promote positive alternatives to violence and to reduce retaliation, re-injury, and arrest.

County-Wide Prison Reentry Planning Initiative

Currently there is no comprehensive or coordinated response to the increasing number of people who are released from prison or jail and returning to the City of Richmond and other locations throughout the county. The Countywide Reentry Planning Initiative is designed to create a coherent strategy that will help Contra Costa County cities to increase public safety, reduce recidivism among its formerly incarcerated population, improve the health status of those coming home and therefore the communities they return to.

The plan will include a detailed implementation schedule as well as extensive evidence of collaboration with key public and private stakeholders. It will also provide a comprehensive and coordinated countywide strategy for providing effective services to the formerly incarcerated; provide policy, services and funding recommendations that will benefit Contra Costa County’s reentry population, provide current data and information on best practices and tools that inform policy makers, service providers, law enforcement and the general public about reentry in Contra Costa County. It will also ensure that a countywide collaborative is in place, is active and prepared to address reentry related issues as they arise; and facilitate collaboration, cooperation, and coordination between Contra Costa County reentry programs, initiatives, service providers and other community stakeholders. Key deliverables of the Countywide Initiative:

- Produce a Reentry Strategic Plan
- Develop a reentry infrastructure in Contra Costa College
- Inventory reentry needs and services in Contra Costa County
- Develop policy recommendations on reentry

Challenges:

Limited and decreasing resources available to fund additional community and faith based street worker programs

Limited employment and training specialists available for those most likely to be involved and/or confronted by gun violence (both public system and community based)

Limited life skills and case management opportunities

Limited economic development opportunities – livable wage jobs/intense economic interventions

Under-funded and overwhelmed social service opportunities

Limited resources for program evaluation

Final Notes:

“The level of crime in a city is in direct proportion to the will of its citizens and law enforcement officers to tolerate it” –President John F. Kennedy

Gun Violence is not normal – let me say that again – Gun Violence is Not Normal.

Violence is learned behavior, and can be changed

Gun violence can be significantly reduced if not completely eliminated – yes even in Richmond California

Active gun offenders in Richmond are WORTH saving – and most can be saved

Not all gangs are violent, not all gangs are equally likely to be involved in gun violence

The public and private systems MUST “deliver the goods” for these individuals, in order for the communities and neighborhoods most impacted to have any chance of experiencing an improved state of health.

To be successful at changing our current reality around gun violence, we have to be more focused - this must truly be our Priority

We must operate SMARTER and be less distracted by legal, political, and divisive factors within the very institutions designed to address this critical issue. Otherwise, we compromise our ability to create the conditions for saving lives, truly rebuilding community, and improving the health status of our most vulnerable residents.
