At the meeting, Economic Development City staff members and various Business service providers addressed the recovery needs of local businesses while planning for longer-term economic development goals and strategies for the City. The first meeting was to workshop the overall vision, specific goals, and attainable objectives. Topics discussed included recovery efforts, priority actions, unemployment, start-up companies, and funding. The group utilized Google Jamboard to foster collaboration and communication between City staff member organizations. The group will continue to meet monthly to collaboratively support Richmond's business community.

Economic Development Commission -- Moxion Power Company Visit

On Wednesday, October 6th as part of the Bay Area Manufacturing Week, Richmond Economic Development Commissioners and City Manager's Office, Economic Development staff members toured Moxion Power Company Research and Development Facility and the construction site of the new manufacturing facility at the Craneway Pavilion.

Moxion Power Company is a Richmond-based clean energy company that has developed a fully electric power generator to provide 'zero-emission temporary power as a service.' Moxion's goal is to provide mobile power units that will replace diesel generators in construction, events & entertainment, utilities, and government agencies. These new mobile power units require minimal maintenance, offer improved readability, real-time data analytics about the generators and are whisper quiet to reduce noise pollution.

The new facility, located in the Craneway Pavilion, is scheduled to be completed and ready for production in 2022. Currently, the company is focusing on expanding the range of their services and marketing their all-electric power generator. The company will manufacture most of the power generators on site, and source most of their materials from within the U.S. To find out more about the company, visit www.moxionpower.com.

The Literacy for Every Adult Program (LEAP) recognizes student Sharloyn Reed-Thompson and volunteer Susan Nishizaka

LEAP is now successfully operating a distance/remoting learning platform and a lot of it has to do with the dedication and commitment of our volunteer and adult learner pairs who've modified their teaching habits. The result of their dedication is demonstrated in the inspiring thoughts expressed in one of our student's passionate writings.

Sharloyn Reed-Thompson has been a LEAP student for a few years and truly excelled in the program after being paired with her tutor Susan. Susan recalls the transition tutoring from in-person to over-the-phone. Since April of 2020, they have been meeting regularly and with such a difficult year and no diversions, it was helpful to have consistent tutoring sessions to provide some structure to their days. They found plenty of time to focus on lessons and since, Sharloyn has moved up three workbooks in both reading and writing! Susan enjoys working with LEAP and is very pleased to see the great progress being made by her student. To illustrate what great work the pair has done, enjoy a snippet of the essay written by Sharloyn Reed-Thompson and edited by Susan Nishizaka. John F. Kennedy and the African American Community

Growing up in the 60's in Texas, I can remember visiting the homes of many African American families. Although, most of them were my friends and family members they had one thing in common. Somewhere in their homes you could find a portrait of three men they paid tribute to as a symbol of hope. A white Jesus, Martin Luther King Jr., and John F. Kennedy would be proudly displayed on the walls of their homes.

There was a photo of President John F. Kennedy, the 35th President of the United States. His administration was known as the Camelot years of the 1960's, being dubbed as the playboy president, Kennedy lived a life of glamour. The older African Americans felt Kennedy spoke against segregation and the struggles of the African Americans' families more than anyone before him. When President Kennedy was assassinated, many feared their future had also died. Many African American families felt they had lost a friend, the only one they had in the White House. Many of them felt he could have made major changes in their lives. Kennedy gained support from the African American community in the 1960's election, because he appeared supportive of the Civil Rights Movement and his response to Dr. King's arrest.

Officer's Swearing-In Ceremony

Chief French held a swearing-in ceremony for our newest police officer, Officer William Ly. Officer Ly has been a member of the Richmond Police Department (RPD) family since 2019. Prior to attending the police academy, he was an RPD Parking Enforcement Representative, where he frequently resolved community parking concerns on our city's streets.

Officer Ly graduated from the Contra Costa County Law Enforcement Training Center on Thursday, September 23, 2021. Please join us in welcoming Officer Ly back to RPD!

Rifles And Handguns Recovered!

While patrolling the Northern District, Officer Brown saw a car that was speeding near the intersection of Shane Drive and Groom Drive. When he attempted to conduct a traffic enforcement stop, the vehicle fled from him at a high rate of speed and crashed into a tree, a short distance away. While awaiting the arrival of medical personnel, officers saw two guns, in plain view, near the driver's seat of the car. Officers quickly detained the occupants, to ensure that arriving medical personnel would be able to safely provide necessary medical services to those involved.

During the course of the investigation, RPD officers recovered five loaded firearms within the car! Two of the guns were semi-automatic AR-15 rifles, including one that was loaded with an illegal 100-round ammunition drum.

We are relieved that this incident was resolved without any injuries to our officers and innocent community members, and that these dangerous firearms were intercepted before anyone was potentially injured or killed!

Pink Patch Project

breast cancer research, and to encourage increased communication and education on the intervention of this devastating disease. Simply put, early detection saves lives! If you would like to help support our mission, and the fight against breast cancer, you can purchase a commemorative Richmond PD pink patch ($10) by contacting Lieutenant Stonebraker at 510-965-4917. Supply quantities are limited; all proceeds will be donated to the Pink Patch Project to help fund the research, education and treatment needed to find a cure.
