Congressman Mark DeSaulnier

"I am pleased the Richmond district office is centrally located at the Civic Center, which houses many local government resources, because it will continue my work to make government as accessible as possible for area residents. I am grateful for the Richmond City Council's assistance with this endeavor," said Mark DeSaulnier.

Congressman-elect DeSaulnier's office will assist constituents who need help with a federal agency, passport application, are applying to a military academy, requesting a tour of the White House or United States Capitol, a Presidential greeting, Congressional commendations or wish to have a flag flown over the United States Capitol. Several full-time Congressional staff will also be based out of the location, working with local and regional governments to advocate on their behalf in Washington.

"My top priority is to provide outstanding constituent services and I invite anyone who is in need of assistance or information from the federal government to call or to stop by my Richmond office. I am happy to be back working in West County. My staff and I look forward to assisting you," concluded DeSaulnier.

Congressman-elect DeSaulnier will host an Open House at his Richmond office in early 2015.

7. Volunteer To Become a Writer Coach!

The swearing-in ceremony this week of Richmond's new Mayor and the City Council members was a reminder that Richmond is a dynamic place to live. It was rejuvenating to hear people promise to do their best and inspiring to listen to others talk about the accomplishments that have happened over the years. All eyes are on Richmond. Yet, what stood out and was repeatedly stated by the City's leaders is that the people in Richmond care deeply about the state of this City. That is what makes Richmond a great place.

One way to show you care about the success of our City is to volunteer. Volunteer to become a Writer Coach at Richmond or Kennedy High Schools. Writer Coaches work one-on-one with high school students on their writing skills and as a result build stronger writers for our community. Register to become a Writer Coach and be a part of this new energy of promise!

Register to become a coach at www.writercoachconnection.org/volunteer and attend an upcoming training in Richmond on Wednesdays, January 28th and February 4th, 2015 from 1:00 PM – 4:00 PM

There are trainings in Berkeley, El Cerrito and Oakland as well.

If you have any questions, please contact Richmond Volunteer Recruitment Coordinator, June Pangelinan, at june@writercoachconnection.org or at (510) 685-7054.

8. Linked Learning Conference

This week, the City Manager's Office Health Initiatives joined the West Contra Costa Unified School District, Richmond High School, MetWest, Oakland Unified School District, and the UC Berkeley Center for Cities and Schools at the Linked Learning Convention in Los Angeles. Linked Learning is a proven approach that is transforming education for California students by integrating rigorous academics with career-based learning and real world workplace experiences. The City's Health and Wellness Coordinator, Gabino Arredondo, was asked to co-present "Y-PLAN: The Role of the Civic Sector in Work Based Learning." His presentation highlighted the collaborative relationship the City maintains with Richmond High's Y-PLAN class to integrate student voices into the City's planning and policy decisions and expose them to the impact of civic policy in their everyday lives.

12. City Manager Chronicles

I have listed below some of the topics for meetings that I have recently attended in the hope that it provides an idea of the varied issues with which our organization deals routinely.

Activities and meeting topics during the past week included:

- Presented service awards to employees achieving longevity milestones;
- Met with a group of staff members to plan for implementing strategies to increase local buying by anchor institutions such as the Berkeley Global Campus;
- Met with Mayor Butt and Jael Myrick, along with several staff members to discuss strategies for implementing the Richmond Promise program.

(Yes, it seems like a shortlist, but it was still a busy week.)

These meetings were in addition to attending the regular management staff meeting, agenda planning, reviewing staff reports to the City Council, doing department head “check-ins,” having discussions on various personnel matters, and having short discussions with staff, community members, members of the press, etc.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions about the substance of these or any other topics.

13. Officer Bradley A. Moody Memorial Underpass Project

The Bradley A. Moody Memorial Underpass Project involves the construction of a roadway underpass on Marina Bay Parkway between Meeker Avenue and Regatta Boulevard, and is intended to resolve long-standing access limitations to the Marina Bay area caused by frequent train crossings. In early September 2013, Marina Bay Parkway was closed to traffic. This closure is planned to remain in place through late May/early June 2015.

The week of January 12th, crews poured the first of two retaining walls at the center pier structure (i.e. the pier in the center of the bridge) as well as an additional sidewalk retaining wall pour. Installation of pump station electrical continued, and asphalt was placed at both the north and south ends of the project. For the week of January 19th, the second center pier retaining wall will be placed, an additional sidewalk retaining wall will be poured, and the Jetty Drive entrance to the Anchorage development will be reopened at Marina Bay Parkway. Additionally, the Marina Bay Parkway driveway to the Crossings commercial development will be reopened. Also, streetlight installation will continue along the southern end of the project.

For additional information and to be added to the project update contact list, please see the project website at www.moodyup.com. You can also follow the project on twitter: @moodyunderpass, or contact the project's Public Outreach Coordinator Jacqueline Majors at (925) 949-6196.

16. Richmond's Minimum Wage Ordinance

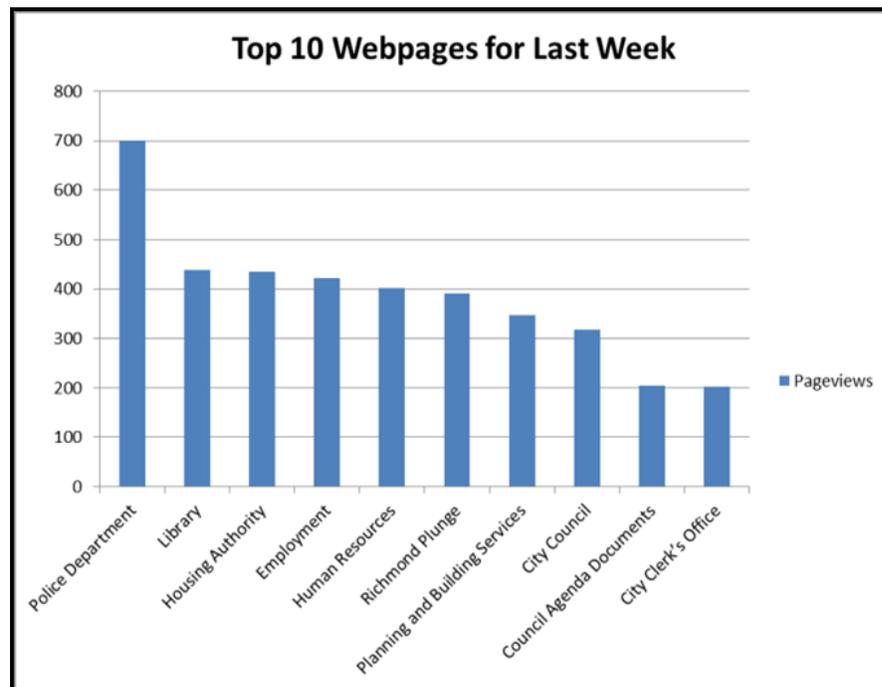

New provisions associated with the City of Richmond's Minimum Wage Ordinance went into effect January 1, 2015. The minimum wage requirement set forth in the Ordinance is $9.60 an hour (compared to $9.00 an hour for the state of California), which applies to any employee who works two (2) or more hours a week.

During this past month, the Richmond Employment & Training Department staff sent out information packets to over 3,000 businesses, distributed information through the city's website, and reached out to Richmond Chamber of Commerce members to inform them of Richmond's Minimum Wage Ordinance. The information packet includes English and Spanish versions of the official notice that must be posted in all workplaces along with a list of employer and employee rights under the ordinance. Employers who pay for less than 800 hours of employee labor in a given 2-week period need not pay the City's minimum wage until they pay over 800 hours or more of employee labor in a 2-week period.

For questions and additional information, please visit the website at <http://www.ci.richmond.ca.us/index.aspx?NID=2615> or www.richmondworks.org, or contact Employment Program Specialist Gina Baker at (510) 307-8011 or at gbaker@richmondworks.org.
