

Mayor and Members of the City Council:

This is the weekly report for the week ending July 31, 2015.

1. Meeting Notes

The Richmond City Council will hold a special meeting on Monday, August 3, 2015 to complete agenda items from the July 28th meeting that were not acted on by the Council at that meeting due to lack of time. A Closed Session will convene at 6:00 PM, followed by the special City Council agenda at 6:30 PM. To see the City Council agenda for this meeting, use the following link: August 3, 2015 Agenda.

No other City Council meetings are currently scheduled during the month of August, with the next regular meeting currently scheduled for Tuesday, September 15th.

2. National Night Out is Tuesday, August 4th. Get to Know Your Community!

The Richmond community will be celebrating National Night Out this Tuesday, August 4th. This is a great opportunity for community members to get to know each other at neighborhood events and for City staff to visit with residents.

Richmond has a proud tradition of celebrating National Night Out. The celebration “kicks off” at the Target parking lot at 6:00 PM, with a community “caravan” of police and fire traveling to as many as 27 events in different neighborhoods throughout the City. This year, the “end party” is at Pullman Point – its first time as a host site.

Please find out where your neighborhood party is and enjoy National Night Out!

3. Office of Neighborhood Safety (ONS) Evaluation Released

This past week, the National Council on Crime and Delinquency (NCCD) issued its process evaluation of the Richmond Office of Neighborhood Safety (ONS) and its Operation Peacemaker Fellowship. The study found that many participants in the Fellowship have experienced lower levels of violence since enrolling in the program, along with improvements in other outcomes, including educational attainment and employment status. Data also suggest that ONS violence reduction strategies, including the Fellowship, have contributed to reductions in gun violence in Richmond.

4. Office of Neighborhood Safety (ONS) Director DeVone Boggan is Heard on KQED Radio's "Forum" with Michael Krasny

On a related note, Richmond Neighborhood Safety Director DeVone Boggan was heard on KQED's Forum, together with the National Council on Crime and Delinquency's (NCCD's) Director of Justice Strategies, Dr. Angie Wolf, discussing NCCD's process evaluation of the ONS and its Operation Peacemaker Fellowship.

The Operation Peacemaker fellowship was described as an innovative, multifaceted anti-violence strategy, focusing on young men most likely to shoot or be shot, with the goal of reducing gun violence and homicides.

This most recent radio feature on the ONS and the Operation Peacemaker fellowship is another in a long line of features on the program in national media outlets, including This American Life (National Public Radio), Mother Jones, The Nation, and The New York Times. Tuesday's "Forum" provided a chance for a broader Bay Area public radio audience to learn more about the ONS, the Operation Peacemaker Fellows, and NCCD's findings.

5. John F. Kennedy Park Design Festival

This past Saturday, July 25th, over 150 neighborhood residents, elected officials, city staff, corporate representatives, and community members visited John F. Kennedy Park to view proposed park design elements for the upcoming community-built park event on national Make a Difference Day, Saturday, October 24, 2015. Led by neighborhood leaders of Park Plaza, Pullman, Laurel Park, and Eastshore, as well as staff from the City of Richmond and The Trust for Public Land, attendees participated in a walking tour of the park and provided vital comments regarding the proposed park design. The design festival was a milestone event for the JFK Park planning team, which has been meeting weekly since April 2015.

This is the City of Richmond's third Community-Built Park Program event following Belding-Garcia and Parchester Park, respectively, in each of the two previous years. This year's project is generously funded by The Trust for Public Land. For more information or to sign up to volunteer, please visit the John F. Kennedy Community-Built Park Program page, or call Rochelle Monk at (510) 620-6511.

6. North Richmond Residents Help Plan Love Your Block

On Tuesday, July 28th, City and County residents of North Richmond attended the Shields Reid Neighborhood Council meeting to learn more about the planned Love Your Block initiative. The Love Your Block initiative will engage resident volunteers in neighborhood revitalization efforts.

During an interactive activity, residents provided input that will help prioritize programming for the North Richmond community using grant funds. Some of the projects identified as priority by the residents include neighborhood clean ups, community gardens, and environmental education.

Richmond was selected by Cities of Service as one of seven cities to plan and implement the Love Your Block model in the communities of North Richmond and Parchester Village. Ultimately, other Richmond communities, groups, and organizations will have an opportunity to apply for mini-grants to improve their neighborhoods.

Richmond residents are encouraged to complete the online survey to further help shape the program. ## 9. Richmond Climate Action Plan Luncheon with Utilities, Franchisees, and Industry Groups

On Thursday, July 23rd, the City hosted a luncheon with local utilities, franchisees, and industry groups regarding development of the Richmond Climate Action Plan (CAP). Eighteen representatives attended, representing eleven organizations. The luncheon provided an opportunity for these organizations to hear a status update on development of the CAP, discuss key challenges and opportunities to partner with utilities to act on climate change in Richmond, and learn about the relationships between the CAP and existing state, regional, and local policies to address climate change.

The luncheon also provided the opportunity for the City to learn more about the key programs and actions that the attending organizations are implementing to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions in Richmond, both within their organization and within the greater Richmond community. Through small break-out group discussions and a larger group discussion, attendees provided feedback on actions that the City can take in its CAP to improve the effectiveness of their existing programs, services provided to the community, and identified opportunities to partner with the City to reduce GHG emissions in Richmond.

For information about the Richmond CAP, including the upcoming Community Workshop on August 18, please visit www.richmondclimateaction.org. All members of the public are invited to attend!

10. City Manager Chronicles

I have listed below some of the topics for meetings that I have recently attended in the hope that it provides an idea of the varied issues with which our organization deals routinely.

Activities and meeting topics during the past two weeks included:

- Attended a meeting, together with Administrative Chief Shasa Curl, with Ed Barlow of North Star Destination Strategies, to discuss marketing and branding strategies in Richmond;

- Attended the press event for the launch of the Richmond Promise scholarship program;
- Attended the third Business Roundtable hosted by Mayor Butt at the Craneway;

These meetings were in addition to attending the regular management staff meeting, agenda planning, reviewing staff reports to the City Council, doing department head "check-ins," having discussions on various personnel matters, and having short discussions with staff, community members, members of the press, etc.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions about the substance of these or any other topics.

11. Officer Bradley A. Moody Memorial Underpass Project

The Bradley A. Moody Memorial Underpass Project involves the construction of a roadway underpass on Marina Bay Parkway between Meeker Avenue and Regatta Boulevard. The project is intended to resolve long-standing access limitations to the Marina Bay area caused by frequent train crossings. In early September 2013, Marina Bay Parkway was closed to traffic, and project completion is scheduled for fall 2015.

During the week of July 27th, off-site fabrication of the bridge towers and sidewalk railings continued, as did work on the traffic signal at Meeker Boulevard, installation of cable railing, and the generator building louvers. Also, installation of the sidewalk railing pedestals was completed. For the week of August 3rd, installation of the sidewalk railing is scheduled to commence, electrical work on traffic signals will continue, and construction of the bioretention storm water basin will start.

For additional information or to be added to the project update contact list, please see the project website at www.moodyup.com. You can also follow the project on twitter: @moodyunderpass, or contact the project's Public Outreach Coordinator Jacqueline Majors at (925) 949-6196.

12. Richmond Fire Department Youth Academy

The Richmond Fire Department's Youth Academy is in its 22nd year of ensuring that the next generation understands the value of service, commitment, and giving back to community. This year's new session will continue to mentor and develop future leaders by establishing the importance of academic achievement, goal-setting, and personal and mutual accountability as the foundations of a better and safer Richmond. Many graduates of the program have gone on to become public safety responders, educators, community and business leaders, and good neighbors. Below is a link to a story about how Richmond's Youth Academy encouraged one young man to serve his community as a Richmond firefighter, and to establish this successful program in a neighboring city.

13. Amtrak Railcar Incident Response Training

Multiple fire departments (Richmond, El Cerrito, Pinole, Rodeo Hercules, and Contra Costa County) recently received training on Amtrak railcar public safety response at the Burlington Northern Santa Fe (BNSF) rail yard. The training focused on procedures for responding to major railcar incidents, resources available to assist in a response, and how to safely working around Amtrak railcars in the event of such an incident.

Amtrak railcars travel at a high rate of speed, with a significant number of passengers, through the City of Richmond and through neighboring jurisdictions, on tracks owned by Union Pacific and BNSF. It is imperative that first responders train together with multiple jurisdictions, and with the railroad industry, to ensure an effectively, efficient and safe response.

This particular training was organized by the City of Richmond Fire Department Training Division, with collaboration among Amtrak and BNSF. Instructors were Stacey Weller (Regional Emergency Manager) of Amtrak and Frederick Payne (Coordinator Field Safety Support) of Burlington Northern Santa Fe Railways.

14. Richmond Fire's Hazardous Materials Team

The Richmond Fire Department Hazardous Material Team recently responded to a combustible liquid spill on the eastern span of the Richmond/San Rafael Bridge. A grocery delivery truck drove onto the K-rail of an ongoing construction project and punctured its 75 gallon capacity fuel tank. The Richmond Fire Hazardous Materials Team collaborated with the California Department of Transportation (CalTrans) to assess the risk and environmental probabilities, develop a plan to secure the uncontained combustible liquid, fully control the leak and ensure the highway was safer for the construction workers to continue their project and motorists to travel.

15. HERO and CaliforniaFIRST - Property Assessed Clean Energy (PACE) Programs Now Available for Richmond Homeowners

Richmond homeowners are now eligible to participate in two Property Assessed Clean Energy (PACE) programs: HERO and CaliforniaFIRST. PACE financing enables homeowners to make energy- and water-efficiency improvements and pay for them through their property tax bill. Property owners repay the assessment over 5 to 20 years and the interest is tax-deductible. Homeowners can use PACE financing to renovate projects that can increase their property values, lower their monthly utility bills, and contribute to making our community more energy independent.

Most homes are eligible to participate and qualification is not based on credit score. Popular home energy upgrade projects include solar panels, windows, HVAC systems, and roofing improvements. PACE programs also offer a variety of options to support our state's ongoing drought conservation efforts and lower water bills including high-efficiency toilets, faucets and showerheads; drip irrigation systems; rainwater catchment systems; gray water systems; and artificial turf and drought-tolerant landscaping.

To find out more about HERO PACE, including eligible projects for your home and local, certified contractors, please visit: www.heroprogram.com/richmond/

18. Think Twice, Spray Once – Use Non-Toxic Gardening Methods

The City of Richmond cares about your health and the vitality of our community. Recently, the Richmond City Council passed an ordinance that bans City workers from using pesticides, specifically those that include glyphosate. Glyphosate is known to be harmful to humans, animals, and the environment. The City of Richmond encourages its residents to join us in using non-toxic methods to reduce the number of weeds in your lawn and garden. Instead of killing weeds with sprays and chemicals, try mulching, or manually pulling weeds from the ground. Please consider the environment in all your gardening activities. Please take a moment to view the City of Richmond public services announcement prepared by staff at KCRT at: https://youtu.be/Vjp\_Y7tOpwc

DPRC

The participants of the Disabled People's Recreation Center summer camp programs had a busy week of activities. There was a day at the facility for exercise, cooking, music therapy, and games. Other days included excursions to Pleasant Hill for window shopping, walks, and lunch, and to Petaluma to visit the great Mrs. Grossman's Sticker store followed by lunch in Walnut Park. The best time was had at the department summer camp talent show, and the week culminated with a wonderful tour of the world famous Jelly Belly Factory in Fairfield.

Summer Camp

Approximately 300 campers, plus staff, from the Recreation Complex, Shields Reid, Nevin, Booker T. Anderson, Parchester, and May Valley Community Centers, spent a wonderful day at the Richmond Memorial Auditorium and Civic Center Plaza. Games and activities were held in the morning, lunch was served, followed by a talent show, while the day ended with the movie “Home”, played on the big screen. The excitement of the day was the talent show, as campers of all ages showcased their talents and awesome abilities in friendly competition to win fabulous prizes for their particular center. Everyone did a great job and judging was difficult, but the May Valley participants ultimately won first place, with second place earned by Parchester, and Nevin third place.

Big thanks to Bert and staff, from KCRT, for all their support and assistance in making the day an absolute hit.
